Bridging Commands, Schools, Families and Communities to Help Students Succeed

Mission, Goals

The School Liaison Program aims to connect schools, families and communities in order to meet the educational needs of the military connected child.

The goals of the program are to:

- Promote communication between local K-12 schools, military families, installation and surrounding communities to achieve academic success for military connected children.
- Promote parental involvement in their children's education.
- Identify barriers to academic success.
- Develop solutions in partnership with local schools and military connected families to overcome obstacles in order to achieve successful education and school transitions.

PARENTS SHOULD KNOW:

- Interstate Compact on Educational Opportunities for Military Children: Removes barriers to educational success imposed on children of military families due to frequent moves and deployment of parents.
<http://www.mic3.net>
- Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA): IDEA is a United States federal law that governs how states and public agencies provide early intervention, special education, and related services to children with disabilities. The law addresses the educational needs of children with disabilities from ages birth to 26 in cases that involve 13 specific categories of disability.

- Section 504: A civil rights law that prohibits discrimination against individuals with disabilities. Section 504 ensures that the child with a disability has equal access to an education. The child may receive accommodations and modifications.

The average military family moves 9 times over a 20 year career. With each move, military children and families face many school-related challenges, which include:

- School Choice
- Transfer of Records
- Immunizations and Age Requirements
- Students in Special Programs
- Students with Special Education Needs
- Calendars and Schedules
- Graduation Requirements
- Sports and Extracurricular Activities
- Connectedness
- Partnerships with School Districts
- Senior Year Moves

School Liaison Officers are working together to provide support to students and families throughout the world. No matter where your military service takes you, we will be there to assist you in making a positive school transition.
